NOTE TO J. B.

My dear Jim Blaine, my dear Jim,
When first we started out
We shook the bloody shirt, Jim,
And gave the rebels rout.
But now that day has pass'd. Jim,
That shirt no more can fright.

That shirt no more can fright.

And we must try some new trick, Jim.

To win this Cleveland fight.

My dear Jim B aine, my dear Jim,
I'll tell you what to do:
Just shake your fist at England, Jim,
And swear your fist at England, Jim,
And swear your re Irish too.
For that will please the boys, Jim,
The boys with dynamite,
And we will have them all, Jim,
And with them win the fight.

My dear Jim Blaine, my dear Jim,

I see no other way
I see no other way
To hide the tattoo'd spots, Jim,
Your careass does display.
So then horrah! hurrah! Jim,
Hurrah for England's foe,
And tell all "Indopendents," Jim,
You're glad to have them go.
Truly yours, - ALBULEX REED.

sentiments of all brave soldiers on both sides of the late war, when I say that no gentleman has been presented to this convention all the brave soldiers that fought on each side of the late war. I shall not occupy the time of this convention long, but I do deem it necessary to say this much, because occasion: By you will find an old politician, a real old sternwheel politician, who tries to gnaw the little meat off of the old bone of contention, but all brave soldiers are ready to meet each other on terms of friendship. This late war was a family quarrel, and the family have settled, and woe be to the outside nation that shall undertake to break up war was a naming quarter, and the most provided as is expressed and manifested at the nomination of Blaine. Connecticut, New Jersey and New York will unquestionably east large majorities for Cleveland, and Massachusetts is regarded as a doubtful State, so great is the opposition to Blaine is that State. The Independent Republicans are fighting for a principle, in the advocacy of which we are bound in justice to give them credit for entire honesty. They have recognized and admitted the evil methods into which their own party has fallen. They have desired to reform their party within itself, and to that end have striven to secure the nomination of a pure and honest man, in—whose integrity they could have thrust upon them the most open and daring representative of the methods they condemn that can be found in the entire organization. Finding that reform within their own organization impossible, they said to the Democracy: "Give us Cleveland, a man shake confidence in the general sound-ness of our banks and non-speculative business institutions, on the other hand there is nothing to encourage hope of an early revival of activity. The low price of wheat and the quietute of the market is decreasing any reliance upon them the most open and daring representative of the antique sickle where the only appropriate implement is the steam plow. M. A. THEDFORD & CO.—Gentlemen: Having been one of Dr. A. Q. Simmons' earliest agents for his Liver Medicine, and also agent for it since his death, I do cheerfully recommend it to the public as the genuine and best Liver Medicine in the world. I have used the medicine made by Dr. A. Q. Simmons himself, and also that made by the parents of M. A. Thedford. There is no difference in them; so I know the medicine made by you is the genuine and original, as made by Dr. Simmons.

Washington, D. C., January 4, 1884. Hon. A. H. Garland:

DEAR SIR—My attention has been called to the stock of the Pan-Electric Telephone Company as an investment; I therefore desire your opinion as to whether the Telephone owned by said Company, or any part of it, is an infragement ownat is known as the Bell Telephone. Respectally.

D. E. MYERS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 5, 1884. WASHINGTON, D. C., January 5, 1884.

DEAR Siz.—In reply to your question propounded in the note hereto attached, I beg to say; I have given the subject referred to much attention, and have closely examined several opinions delivered by different courts in controversies between the Bell Telephone Company, Dolbest, Spencer Ghegan, and others, and I am clearly of opinion that the Pan-Electric, named by you, in no wise infringes the Bell Telephone. From the earliest decisions of our courts to the present, although inventions may in their general principles be alike, yet if in their operation and working there is an essential or material difference, there is no conflict to amount to an infrincement. fringing. (Duff vs. Sterling Pump Co., 107 U. S. Reps. 636.)
This, in my judgment, is more than enough to insure the Pan-Klectric Telephone from any charge of infringement of the Bell Telephone. Very truly, etc.,
A. H. GARLAND.
D. E. Myszs, Esq., National Hotel, City.

Senator Harris, another eminent lawrer of the Senate of the United States, has also given the subject profound investigation from Reiss's original invention of the Telephone, in Germany, dawn to Drawhaugh's, Bell's and Rogers's reproduction of it in America; and heartily concurs with Judge Garland.

The judges of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania have lately denied an injunction to the Bell Company on their broad claims; and the most eminent jurists throughout the country agree with them in the above opinion.

Thus guaranteed against infringement suits, and having secured rights in these marvelous instruments, and owning the various properties described above, "The Rogere Telegraph and Telephone Company," incorporated under the laws of the State of New York, April 31, 1881, was capitalized at $5,000,000, divided into shares of Side each. of $100 each.

It is possible that the Telephone steek alone—to any nothing of "the future possibilities of Electricity," may, like that of the field Company, which was capitalized at $10,000,000, rise to very high prices; but for the sake of rapid construction, and to develop the rich mines of electrical discovery already in sight, the company offers to investors and speculators very rare opportunities—

In Milwaukee one pupil only is in the high school out of sixty-seven in the total enrollment, and the initiate at large in forty-three. Therefore elementary schools should face the world, not high schools should face the world, not high schools, and in this way they will best fit for the high school. Their course should be so planned that at whatever state the pupil leaves it he will have received the best preparation for the appointment of a receiver for Fletcher & Sharpe.
